

2.

NOW THEREFORE, it is agreed that a resident of OREGON or CALIFORNIA who is currently licensed to practice as an investigator may be granted a limited reciprocal licensure exemption from the licensing requirements of the reciprocal state. The exemption is only available to:

2.1 Investigators who are licensed by the reciprocating state and whose license is in good standing with the reciprocating state.

2.2 Investigators, qualified per Paragraph 2.1 above, who enter the reciprocating state to conduct investigations only if the investigation originated in their home state.

Furthermore, investigation in the reciprocating state is limited to sixty (60) days per investigator per case.

Investigations exceeding sixty (60) days must be handled by a licensed investigator in the reciprocating state. The exemption does not authorize investigators to solicit investigative business in the reciprocating state or to conduct investigative business in the reciprocating state other than as specifically stated in this paragraph.

FURTHERMORE, the parties agree that:

3.1 Any complaint or disciplinary action sought against the investigator arising out of the licensee's investigative activities in the reciprocating state shall be forwarded to the administrator of the investigative regulatory agency in the state which granted the license. The licensing agency, which granted the investigator license, shall possess all responsibility for administering such complaints and disciplinary action, if proposed, according to that state's statutes. In the case of dual licensure, a complaint against an investigator shall be administered by the state within which the investigation case originated.

3.2 This agreement may be terminated by either party upon thirty(30) days written notice.
